Commonwealth Land, Sea And Air Units To Move Into Nippon Within Week

Russia Declines Invitation To Send Troops; China 'Willing But Unable'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 — A British Commonwealth force of land, sea and air units will start moving into Japan within a week to share occupation duties and hasten repatriation of "many" American troops, the state department announced today.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, in a statement from his headquarters in Tokyo, extended the "heartiest possible welcome" to the men from Australia, New Zealand, India and United Kingdom who are about to share the "arduous and difficult duties" of occupying Japan.

Their presence — the supreme allied command — will materially broaden the international lines of 1945 which up to this time has, of necessity, been carried to a large extent unilaterally by the United States forces and cannot fail to be of overall beneficial effect.

"It will enable a diminution in our own strength and will thereby bring welcome relief to many individuals."

The state department said MacArthur would readjust the schedule for withdrawing American troops as soon as possible.

MacArthur assigned the British Commonwealth Occupation Force (BCOF) to locate "initially" at Hiroshima prefecture, including the cities of Kure and Fukuyama. In addition, one battalion will be represented at the Tokyo prefecture.

Australian Lt. Gen. J. Northcott will be commander-in-chief of the BCOF. His chief of staff will be Air Commodore F. M. Bladen of the Royal Australian Air Force.

The state department said only local military control would be exercised by the BCOF in areas where it is assigned, with military government responsibility and overall command remaining with the United States.

Only the British Commonwealth accepted American invitations to share in occupation of Japan. China and Russia also were asked. China replied that she was willing but unable, and Russia declined.

The BCOF will be made up of a land corps consisting of a British Indian division and one brigade each from Australia and New Zealand, and an air component made up of squadrons from the Royal Air Force and the Royal Australian, New Zealand and Indian air forces.

A squadron of the British Pacific fleet, including ships of the Royal Navy, also will be assigned to Japanese waters.

MacArthur said he took "special personal pride" in again being associated with the Australian contingent, which had served

Preacher Admits Poisoning Daughter; Probe Now Spreading Out

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Jan. 31 — The swiftly-widening probe into the family affairs of a Grand Rapids, Mich., pastor who has confessed he poisoned his daughter, extended into Dixon, Ill., today where his first wife died in 1929.

The Rev. Frank Siple, 53-year-old pastor of the Southlawn Church of God, confessed this morning that he had poisoned his daughter, Dorothy, 17, in 1939. He made the confession in his jail cell where he is held on a charge of attempted murder of Lyle Doan, an elder of his church.

With the confession, made to Kent county prosecutor Menso R. Bolt, the examination into Siple's family affairs moved toward Dixon where Siple was pastor for a time.

Former Adm. MacArthur Had No Warning War Near

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 — Vice Adm. Patrick N. L. Bellinger, former commander of naval air defenses in Hawaii, said today there was no long-range reconnaissance prior to the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor because he had no information indicating a need for it.

Bellinger told the Pearl Harbor investigating committee he saw none of the warning messages sent from Washington to Hawaii until several days after the Dec. 7, 1941 attack.

The only information he had regarding the tense relations between the United States and Japan came from reading Honolulu newspapers, Bellinger testified.

"The information available to me — limited and unofficial as it was — did not indicate that I should recommend to the commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet that distant patrol plane search for the security of Pearl Harbor be undertaken at that time," he said.

In the absence of such information, he added, "the patrol planes available were carrying out their regularly assigned schedules when the Japanese struck."

GOERING NOTE ON EXECUTIONS READ AT TRIAL

NURNBERG, Jan. 31 — A note written by Hermann Goering to Adolf Hitler on May 15, 1944, proposing that American airmen shot immediately after their capture was introduced as evidence today in the war crimes trial.

French Prosecutor Charles Dubost submitted Goering's note and evidence that 15 American airmen from two Liberators were shot on June 25, 1944, at Mecklenburg "while trying to escape."

Dubost said that allied officers and non-commissioned officers who refused to work in prison camps were murdered without trial. He charged that Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel "approved" the executions even if he did not order them.

Arthur Seyss-Inquart and Ernst Kaltenebner were absent from the courtroom because of illness.

Dubost read into the record the U. S. First army report on the massacre of 129 American prisoners of war at Malmedy, Belgium, during the Ardennes breakthrough on Dec. 17, 1944.

"This act constitutes terrorism, the shame of which will remain forever on the German army whose members knew the prisoners were unarmed and had surrendered."

LONDON, Jan. 31 — British quarters, preparing to defend their policy in Greece and Indonesia before the UNO, declared their readiness today to abide by the security council's decision in the matter.

Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, who will present the British defense tomorrow, was described as wanting "no bloody nonsense but on the other hand no bloody noses."

The United Nations Assembly was in recess today, with only sub-committee meetings scheduled. The interlude before the hearing on Soviet charges that the presence of British troops in Greece and Indonesia threatened world peace followed a security council compromise on the dispute between Iran and Russia.

RULING ON VET CLAIM APPEALED

Federal Government Plans To Continue Fight On Superseniority Case

DETROIT, Jan. 31 — The federal government moved today to appeal a federal court ruling that veterans returning to jobs cannot displace workers with greater seniority under union contracts.

Maurice Zwerdling, assistant U. S. district attorney, said that his office would file the appeal on behalf of George Drost, Westphalia, Mich., whose suit in a test case on veterans' superseniority was dismissed yesterday by Federal Judge Arthur Lederle.

Drost, in case in which the Wayne county council of Veterans of Foreign Wars and the CIO United Auto workers union intervened as interested parties, sought $600 from the Nash-Kelvinator corporation.

He claimed it under re-employment provisions of the selective service act.

Drost worked as a camber grinder in the Nash-Kelvinator plant at Lansing before joining the Army. When he returned, he went back to the same job with added seniority for his year of military service which moved him up to No. 45 on the plant list.

He was dropped from that job because there were less than 45 openings in that classification and returned to work at a lower classification. In the suit he sought to recover the money he would have made if he had kept the higher rated job.

"There is nothing in the legislative history of the (selective service) act that would justify a court in concluding that congress intended to upset the established labor relations on the production front by requiring that labor contracts be construed to include provisions for placing returned World War II veterans in a position at the head of the seniority list," Judge Lederle ruled.

The judge declared that "the defendant restored the plaintiff to his position in accordance with the union contract and that is all the act requires."

Demands for higher pay have prompted hundreds of strikes and shut-downs, idling nearly 1,500,000 workers across the country.

At the first General Motors-CIO United Auto Workers negotiations session since Dec. 26, the company yesterday refused to hike the wages of its 175,000 workers more than 13½ cents an hour.

Harry W. Anderson, GM vice president, indicated indirectly, however, that the company might raise its bid if certain objectionable features of its old contract, including a maintenance of membership clause, were removed.

UAW President R. J. Thomas warned that the 72-day strike would continue until the company receded from its stand.

WAR TRAINING, DRAFT MEASURES ARE POSTPONED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 — The house military affairs committee decided today to postpone work on peacetime military training and draft extension to take up the overall problem of the peacetime army.

Committee Chairman Andrew J. May, D. Ky., appointed a nine-member subcommittee to study the problem and recommend necessary revisions in the postwar army.

The subcommittee will start work immediately. May said universal training, the draft extension and other matters would be delayed "because all of them are contingent upon a new national defense act."

One of the first considerations will be the size of the postwar army. Some congressmen want that established before any move is made to extend the draft beyond May 15.

There is also growing sentiment for the Army to try to meet its manpower needs through volunteers alone. Legislation is now pending to make enlistments more attractive through higher pay for enlisted men, liberalized retirement benefits and faster promotions.

Besides Mays other members on the subcommittee are Reps. R. Ewing Thomason, D., Tex., Paul J. Kilday, D., Tex., John J. Sparkman, D., Ala., Overton Brooks, D., La., Walter G. Andrews, R., N. Y., Thomas Martin, R., La., Charles Elston, R., O., and Forrest A. Harness, R., Ind.

Plans for the meeting were laid at a meeting in the county auditor's office Wednesday night. Present were representatives of Grangers, Farm Bureau, 4-H leaders and business men. A meeting to further the plans will be held February 9.

Company Wants Guarantees In Exchange For Bigger Boosts In Pay

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 — Real and threatened shutdowns in steel-stamped plants brought new appeals today for a swift settlement of the nation's steel strike.

At the same time, cautious forecasts were heard in administration circles that the government would apply further pressure to the steel industry unless there was a break this week in the deadlocked wage dispute.

There were no immediate plans for seizure — a frantic job because of the scope of the industry — but that seemed inevitable if a prolonged shutdown were threatened.

The dwindling supply of steel materials already has forced some plants to close their doors or curtail operations. Their plight was dramatized in a telegram from Henry Ford II of the Ford Motor company to reconversion director John W. Snyder:

"We are in a case in which we are made available to us and to our suppliers promptly, we will have to shut down completely some time this week," the telegram said.

Ford also objected to the effect of price control on industrial production. He said that if controls in the automobile industry were removed "management and labor will settle their differences without running to government — where price fixing is now forcing them to go."

Thousands of GI Wives, Children Planning To Move To Overseas Base

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31—Thousands of Army wives and children began laying plans today to join their GI husbands and fathers overseas this Spring.

The war department opened the way for the mass migration yesterday when it said dependents of some soldiers overseas may join them at Army expense as soon as local theatre commanders are convinced that food and shelter are available.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31—High congressional sources indicated today that it probably would be at least 30 to 60 days before congress passes on the proposed $3,750,000 loan to Britain.

U. S. GETS BACK ONE FOR SIX IN SURPLUS SALES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31—The government got back about one dollar in six from the sale of surplus property during the last three months of 1945.

The surplus property administration said in its quarterly report to congress that it sold property originally valued at $560,000 for $233,000 during the three months period.

At the same time, however, it recovered nothing on more than $1,000,000 worth of nonsaleable airplane which either were scrapped or stored.

SPA said about $10,000,000 worth of property had been declared surplus at the end of 1945 and that the total was expected to rise to $42,000,000 by June, 1947.

The convention also asked President Truman to do what he could to help the flow of clothing and food into destitute areas of the world. Gov. Frank J. Lausche was praised by the group for his "vigorous enforcement" of anti-gambling laws.

LONDONERS RUN AWAY FROM LIVE GERMAN BOMBS

LONDON, Jan. 31—The threat of a triple explosion that might wreck Buckingham palace sent passersby scuttling away from the royal residence today when two more live German bombs were discovered close by a 1,000-pounder which RAF experts had been trying to neutralize for more than a week.

All three bombs were clustered in a narrow corner of St. James park opposite the palace, two of them in the duck pond and the third in the center of a lovers lane familiar to London couples since the time of Henry the Eighth.

Bomb disposal experts discovered the lovers lane bomb accidentally while working on the 1,000-pounder buried some 30 feet below the muddy bottom of the duck pond.

A hurried instrument test indicated the new missile was a 2,000-pound blockbuster, one of the biggest bombs dropped by the Luftwaffe during the 1940-41 blitz.

A few minutes later, still another live bomb was discovered beneath the duck pond bed, this one apparently a smaller type. The overtaxed RAF experts dropped a tin can to mark the spot and went back to work on the two most dangerous missiles.

4. The national shipbuilding wage conference was deadlocked after management representatives rejected a proposal for an 18-cent hourly pay hike for 450,000 shipyard workers.

Meanwhile, government officials worked to avert three strikes which would cut off power from consumers in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Kentucky and Virginia.

Lucien F. Rye, the labor department's top utilities expert, said progress was being made in heading off a wage strike of CIO utilities workers at three Ohio Power companies.

But Harold J. Straub, vice president of the union, warned that unless the national labor relations board intervenes, 4,000 workers at the Pennsylvania Power and Light Company would strike to protest "company domination and interference" in a collective bargaining election.

The United Construction Workers union (UMW) prepared a new wage proposal to be presented to two utility companies serving Kentucky and Virginia. A walkout originally set for last Sunday was postponed at the request of federal conciliators.

CITY INCOME TAX IS PREDICTED TO SPREAD IN OHIO

AKRON, O., Jan. 31—Mayor Charles E. Slusser, who is president of the Ohio league of municipalities, today said the Toledo ordinance instituting a municipal one per cent income tax would revolutionize the revenue system in virtually every Ohio city.

Slusser said the Toledo plan would catch on widely and swiftly because it holds out to Ohio's debt-burdened cities means to get themselves out of indebtedness, opportunities of continuous improvement programs and great possibilities for industrial expansion.

He said the tax was "the most fair tax" because it would make transients and suburban workers—who draw their livelihoods from a city but do not contribute anything in return to the facilities that serve them—help shoulder the municipal tax load.

Toledo, through the income tax ordinance, seeks to raise $3,000,000 and gradually lower real estate revenues. Slusser believes other municipalities should follow the same plan.

The head of the Ohio municipalities league said he was not anticipating an immediate rush to pass such ordinances in Ohio. He expects the cities to watch the operation of the Toledo plan and hold off local action until the Ohio supreme court approves its constitutionality.

Any race for action would be in competition with the state which could institute a state income tax that would supersede a city tax. However, a city tax in effect before state action would insure the city of retaining 50 per cent of its own collections.

SUGAR LOST IN JAVA FIGHTING BROKERS REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 31—Civil strife in Java, with organized large-scale looting and burning of sugar warehouses, has resulted in destruction of "quantities" of sugar, B. W. Dyer & company, sugar economists and brokers, reported today.

On V-J day many interior mills had from 30,000 to 50,000 tons of sugar in warehouses. How much of this sugar has survived destruction after months of disorder is merely a guess, the Dyer firm said.

About 800 tons in Semarang has disappeared in a five week reign of terror. Wholesale slaughter of non-natives by the nationalists has been reported in the interior, the company said.

Because of the civil strife it will take at least two years from the date of peace in Java until sugar production for export can be resumed, the statement added.

Bolt said he would seek a murder warrant against Siple in his daughter's death and ask Dixon authorities to exhume the body of the pastor's first wife, Bertie, who died there in December, 1929.

Siple told Bolt that he poisoned his daughter because she was mentally incompetent and he did not want her to go to an asylum.

Bolt said Siple had been helping care for the girl, who officially was reported to have died of coronary thrombosis and that he gave her shots of potassium cyanide. Siple told Bolt he gave her a capsule containing the poison at midnight and she died a few hours later.

Bolt said Siple broke down and confessed when he was told that authorities had ordered exhumation of the girl's body to determine if she had been poisoned.

BELLINGER SAYS NO PLANS MADE

(Continued from Page One) uses at that time consisted principally of anti-submarine patrol over fleet operating areas by a limited number of planes. The remaining available planes were being held in readiness for offensive action in the event of war.

Previous witnesses have testified that a series of warning messages came from Washington to Adm. Husband E. Kimmel, commanding the Pacific fleet, during the two months before Pearl Harbor.

They ranged from a dispatch concerning a change in the Japanese cabinet Oct. 16, 1941 to a dispatch of Nov. 27, 1941 which started with the admonition, "this is to be considered as a war warning."

"I never knew of any warning dispatches until a few days after the attack—on the evening of about Dec. 10, I think it was...," Bellinger testified.

He said one of his subordinate officers "had just learned" there had been a warning dispatch received. He checked and it was confirmed by the district intelligence officer.

"Several days after that, when I was working on some papers with Admiral Kimmel, I first saw one of the warning dispatches," he said.

KENTUCKY MAY GET FIRST NEW ATOMIC WEAPONS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31—Congressional sources today foresaw a possibility that the battleship Kentucky, now under construction, may be the first ship armed with atomic weapons.

Cmdr. Frank C. Nash told the house naval affairs committee yesterday that completion of the battleship would be delayed pending a Navy "study."

Nash's testimony indicated to committee members that the Navy wanted to see results of planned atomic bomb tests on a task force in May before it determined what offensive and defensive equipment the ship would carry.

Hinting that the Kentucky would be a "super" ship, Nash told the committee, "ultimately we want to make her the strongest ship we can."

Although it is probable that the Navy will be more concerned with hull strength and defensive equipment, some sources also believed that the vessel would be armed with new striking weapons—rockets and possibly other yet-to-be-designed weapons of the atomic type.

BRITISH PLAN TO ABIDE BY UNO DECISION

United Nations To Study Russian Charges In Friday Session

The British said they were interested in two things—reasserting willingness to go along with the council decision, whatever it may be, and a chance to state the British position in Greece and Indonesia.

The general assembly tomorrow will elect Trygve Lie, Norwegian foreign minister, as first secretary general of the UNO. Then the security council will proceed with the Greek and Dutch cases.

Delegations of both large and small nations were proud of the security council's handling of its first major problem. The council decided in a heated four-hour debate to hand the Iranian-Russian dispute back to the two nations for bilateral negotiations without prejudicing the council's right to step into the situation again if necessary.

The UNO took a breathing spell today while its overworked secretariat tried to catch up with the mass of paper work which has almost overwhelmed it. No major meetings were scheduled.

In the inevitable postmortem about who "won," delegates appraised the test as an auspicious start for the new organization. It was a middle of the road compromise providing face-saving factors for all the Soviet Union, Iran and the council itself.

Delegates felt that the council's operation would help dispel some of the cynicism and pessimism that the UNO would be only another league debating society. The pattern and precedent set, if continued, gives hope of a revolutionary change in old style diplomacy.

Delegates and observers drew two major conclusions:

(1) The Iranian case has set up a valuable series of procedural precedents for developing open door diplomacy and publicly airing disputes.

(2) Yesterday's council session proved that the Soviet Union can "take it" in public, thus answering fears of some skeptics that the Russians are not interested in the UNO and would take the first opportunity to abandon it if arraigned before public opinion.

One official close to the United States delegation asked the rhetorical question: "I wonder whether the United States, if denounced in public session by a small neighboring country such as the Dominican Republic, for example, could take it as well as the Soviets did?"

I wonder what American congressional and public reaction would be to our council representative if he had allowed a small country—rightly or wrongly—to harangue the United States as Iran did the Soviet Union?"

Commonwealth Land, Sea And Air Units To Move Into Nippon Within Week

British commonwealth officers will exercise responsibility for maintenance and administration of the land, sea and air units but overall operational command will rest with top U. S. land, air and naval commanders.

BCOF naval port parties will begin arriving at Kure port the first week in February.

These will be followed in the third week in February by Australian units including an airfield construction squadron; about March 1 by the British Indian division and advance parties of the British Indian air force; and about March 23 by the New Zealand brigade, which is moving from Italy.

The agreement was signed for the British commonwealth by Australian foreign minister H. V. Evatt. It was announced simultaneously here and in Canberra, Wellington, New Delhi, London and Tokyo.

The pact stipulated that BCOF may be withdrawn "wholly or in part" by agreement between the U. S. and the commonwealth nations or upon six months notice by either party. Following initial reductions in U. S. forces, the size of BCOF will be reduced to conform with any subsequent cut in American strength.

Although Russia is sending no occupation troops, she is participating in the military rule of Japan. A state department spokesman said Russia had notified the U. S. that its delegates to the Allied council under MacArthur were on route to Tokyo.

They are Lt. Gen. K. N. Derevynko, representative on the council; Y. A. Malik, last Russian ambassador to Japan, his alternate; a delegate named Anurov who will be Malik's alternate; and L. A. Razin, economic advisor.

Mr. Brink announced that the Blue Ribbon Dairy would be moved to the building being used by the Circle City Dairy. Blue Ribbon bought the Circle City business recently and both plants have been operated. Starting Thursday the business has been combined and will be operated as the Blue Ribbon Dairy.

Mr. Brink was connected for 17 years with Frank Lynch in the operating of the Circle City bottling company. He resigned from the Coca-Cola company which recently purchased the business from Mr. Lynch. Mr. Brink said that Mary Katherine Kennedy, bookkeeper at the Coca-Cola plant, also had resigned.

Chairman Brent Spence, D. K., of the house banking committee who introduced the house bill, promised full and complete hearings.

"We have no wish to delay consideration of this legislation," he said, "but we are determined to bring out all the facts."

He was seconded by Rep. Jesse P. Wolcott, Mich., ranking committee Republican, who called the proposal "the most controversial thing we have had before congress in a good many years."

Spence said his committee would set hearings for the bill after it finishes up with the OPA extension bill scheduled to come up next Tuesday. That may take three weeks. The committee probably will need at least 10 days or two weeks more on the loan.

Hopes For Easing Of Labor Crisis Dim As Wage Talks Bog Down

2. The Ford Motor Company said it would have to shut down completely this week unless the steel strike ends. Ford already has laid off 15,000 workers because of the steel shortage.

3. The CIO United Farm Equipment and Metal Workers union rejected International Harvester's offer of 17 cent an hour wage increase for 30,000 striking workers.

4. The national shipbuilding wage conference was deadlocked after management representatives rejected a proposal for an 18-cent hourly pay hike for 450,000 shipyard workers.

Meanwhile, government officials worked to avert three strikes which would cut off power from consumers in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Kentucky and Virginia.

Lucien F. Rye, the labor department's top utilities expert, said progress was being made in heading off a wage strike of CIO utility workers at three Ohio Power companies.

But Harold J. Straub, vice president of the union, warned that unless the national labor relations board intervenes, 4,000 workers at the Pennsylvania Power and Light Company would strike to protest "company domination and interference" in a collective bargaining election.

The United Construction Workers union (UMW) prepared a new wage proposal to be presented to two utility companies serving Kentucky and Virginia. A walkout originally set for last Sunday was postponed at the request of federal conciliators.

CITY INCOME TAX IS PREDICTED TO SPREAD IN OHIO

AKRON, O., Jan. 31—Mayor Charles E. Slusher, who is president of the Ohio league of municipalities, today said the Toledo ordinance instituting a municipal one per cent income tax would revolutionize the revenue system in virtually every Ohio city.

Slusher said the Toledo plan would catch on widely and swiftly because it holds out to Ohio's debt-burdened cities a means to get themselves out of indebtedness, opportunities of continuous improvement programs and great possibilities for industrial expansion.

He said the tax was "the most fair tax" because it would make transients and suburban workers—who draw their livelihoods from a city but do not contribute anything in return to the facilities that serve them—help shoulder the municipal tax load.

Toledo, through the income tax ordinance, seeks to raise $30,000,000 and gradually lower real estate revenues. Slusher believes other municipalities should follow the same plan.

The head of the Ohio municipalities league said he was not anticipating an immediate rush to pass such ordinances in Ohio. He expects the cities to watch the operation of the Toledo plan and hold off local action until the Ohio supreme court approves its constitutionality.

Any race for action would be in competition with the state which could institute a state income tax that would supersede a city tax. However, a city tax in effect before state action would insure the city of retaining 50 per cent of its own collections.

TIPS ON DDT USE OFFERED BY SPECIALIST

New Wonder Insecticide Does Not Kill All Garden Pests

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 31—It seems certain that thousands of Ohio gardeners will be trying DDT as an insecticide this year; so T. H. Parks, extension entomologist, Ohio State University, advises them to follow recommendations based upon experimental work closely because DDT is very effective against some insects and does not control damage by others.

For leafhoppers and thrips, DDT seems to be an ideal control agent, and it is as good or better than rotenone for killing most caterpillars and beetles but it does not work satisfactorily on the Mexican bean beetle. DDT does not satisfactorily control plant lice or aphids, and it increases damage by red spider because it kills the natural enemies of that pest.

Mr. Parks says DDT can be used on plants either as a dust containing 3 per cent actual DDT or as a wettable powder dissolved in water and applied as a spray. It never should be applied to plants when combined with oil as a suspension or emulsion. That form is intended as a spray to be used in buildings.

Tests of DDT indicate that its use on squash, cucumber, melon, or young tomato plants may cause damage to those plants to reduce yields. DDT will combine with almost all materials used to control plant diseases so all the materials can be applied at one time.

On potatoes, the recommendation for leaf hopper control is one-half to three-fourths pound of DDT to 100 gallons of spray. Applications should be made about every 10 days so the new growth will be protected. The spray should be directed against underside of the leaves. DDT can be placed in bordeaux mixture, and the DDT adheres so well to the foliage that no sticker is need to keep it in place.

The child, who is now breathing through a tube, may, if she recovers, never speak again due to the damage done to her vocal chords by the knife. Lobadio, to whom Rosalie had been sent by her parents for milk and bread, was taken in custody by police two hours after the child was found hanging over an alley gate at the rear of his store. With a record of five arrests, one, in May, 1943, for criminal assault, Lobadio was being held by police awaiting outcome of child's life. (International)

REVISION OF OHIO SAFETY CODE POSTPONED

COLUMBUS, Jan. 31—The state industrial commission has announced that a February hearing on the revision of the state's safety code has been postponed until March 1.

The hearing was set for Feb. 8. It was the outcome of a letter by George DeNucci, executive director of the Ohio CIO council, who charged that many of the factory safety codes had not been changed for years.

An opening hearing was called by the commission to determine what is necessary to bring the codes and safety regulations up to date.

Commission officials said the postponement was made at the request of both labor and management.

TIPS ON DDT USE OFFERED BY SPECIALIST

New Wonder Insecticide Does Not Kill All Garden Pests

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 31.—It seems certain that thousands of Ohio gardeners will be trying DDT as an insecticide this year; so T. H. Parks, extension entomologist, Ohio State University, advises them to follow recommendations based upon experimental work closely because DDT is very effective against some insects and does not control damage by others. For leafhoppers and thrips, DDT seems to be an ideal control agent, and it is as good or better than rotenone for killing most caterpillars and beetles but it does not work satisfactorily on the Mexican bean beetle. DDT does not satisfactorily control plant lice or aphids, and it increases damage by red spider because it kills the natural enemies of that pest.

Mr. Parks says DDT can be used on plants either as a dust containing 3 per cent actual DDT or as a wettable powder dissolved in water and applied as a spray. It never should be applied to plants when combined with oil as a suspension or emulsion. That form is intended as a spray to be used in buildings.

Tests of DDT indicate that it is use on squash, cucumber, melon, or young tomato plants may cause damage to those plants to reduce yields. DDT will combine with almost all materials used to control plant diseases so all the materials can be applied at one time.

On potatoes, the recommendation for leaf hopper control is one-half to three-fourths pound of DDT to 100 gallons of spray. Applications should be made about every 10 days so the new growth will be protected. The spray should be directed against underside of the leaves. DDT can be placed in bordeaux mixture, and the DDT adheres so well to the foliage that no sticker is needed to keep it in place.

Gen. Robert E. Lee, leader of the Confederate forces in the Civil War, was the son of Gen. Light-horse Harry Lee of Revolutionary War fame.

Sacajawea, a young Indian woman, guided the Lewis and Clark expedition and pushed the boundary of the United States from the Mississippi river to the Pacific.

SLASHING VICTIM POINTS FINGER IN ACCUSATION

SEVEN-YEAR-OLD Rosalie Ida Giganti, who was criminally attacked and stabbed in the throat, points her finger at Frank Lobadio, third from left, the 29-year-old grocer she identifies as the man who assaulted her. The child, who is now breathing through a tube, may, if she recovers, never speak again due to the damage done to her vocal chords by the knife. Lobadio, to whom Rosalie had been sent by her parents for milk and bread, was taken in custody by police two hours after the child was found hanging over an alley gate at the rear of his store. With a record of five arrests, one, in May, 1943, for criminal assault, Lobadio was being held by police awaiting outcome of child's life. (International)

REVISION OF OHIO SAFETY CODE POSTPONED

COLUMBUS, Jan. 31.—The state industrial commission has announced that a February hearing on the revision of the state's safety code has been postponed until March 1.

The hearing was set for Feb. 8. It was the outcome of a letter by George DeNucci, executive director of the Ohio CIO council, who charged that many of the factory safety codes had not been changed for years.

An opening hearing was called by the commission to determine what is necessary to bring the codes and safety regulations up to date.

Commission officials said the postponement was made at the request of both labor and management.

NEWS OF OUR MEN and WOMEN IN UNIFORM

Pfc. William W. Wharton, son of Frank L. Wharton of Route 2, has enlisted in the regular army for a period of one year. It was announced at Camp Crowder, Mo., this week. Since his induction last April he has been stationed at Camp Crowder, and has been attending the Central Signal Corps School.

Lt. Rachel Pickel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pickel of 223 East Mound street, has been assigned for duty as an Army nurse at Crile General Hospital, Cleveland. She recently returned from two years of overseas service with the 39th Evacuation Hospital unit. Her address is Lt. Rachel Pickel, N-767388, Crile General Hospital, Cleveland 9, Ohio.

Four more men from the Circleville area have been discharged from the Army at Camp Atterbury, Ind. They are as follows: T/5 Frank R. Beck, 120½ West Main street; T/5 James P. Walton, route 1 Lockbourne; Pfc. Wayne F. Robinson, route 2 Lauryville, and S/Sgt. Guy A. Courtwright, Stoutsburg RFD.

Sgt. Glenn C. McCoy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. McCoy of route 3, has the following address: Sgt. Glenn C. McCoy, 35885103, APO 503, c/o P. M., San Francisco, Calif.

The average speed of freight trains in the United States was 52 per cent faster in 1942 than it was in 1920.

LaBarge, in the northeast corner of Lincoln county, Wyo., is said to have the nation's largest shallow oil field.

BROWNIE TROOP 5

Mrs. E. W. Hedges, leader. Mrs. Eleanor Spicer, Ass't. leader. Collection of dues, explanation of "friendship bags" opened the meeting of the troop. Members decided to complete two bags and continued work on pillow tops.

During the recreation period Scouts sang "Hello, Hello, Hello" and "Three Blind Mice". Games played included musical chair, bump, hen and chicks. The meeting was closed with a magic lunch.

GIRL SCOUT TROOP 9

Meeting was opened with Girl Scout promise. The girls sang a group of songs in unison.

The next part of the meeting was devoted to putting tags on the clothes given to the Victory Clothing Drive by this troop. Each tag contained the name and address of the giver along with the troop number. The collection in this troop was very successful.

Last week Troop No. 9 was divided into two patrols and the names for each patrol chosen by

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

When disorders of kidney function become manifest in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatism, pains, loss of pep and energy, setting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pill. It has been giving kidney trouble by millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pill.

its members. They chose Rosebud and Dewdrop. This week the Rosebud patrol gave a program for the troop. It consisted of the Mogan, a story by Dorothy Lamson, and a dance by Shirley Dunlap.

Mary Ellen Rader and Nancy Goodchild gave a short report on Czechoslovakia. This is the country chosen by this troop to which they will send Friendship Bags.

The meeting was brought to a close with the forming of our friendship circle and the singing of taps.

Ruth Workman
Assistant Leader
Troop No. 4

The first part of the meeting was devoted to current business. Miss Stout asked that we have a meeting each week for the next three or four weeks so that we can finish our Friendship Bags on time. We discussed the Vesper Service which will be held by the Girl Scouts on International Thinking Day. Ruth Workman is to wrap a box to appear as a gift into which contributions for the Juliette Lowe fund will be placed.

Miss Stout discussed with us a project by which we can earn some money for our troop. All present were in favor. This will be carried out the latter part of February.

Each girl was then told to bring toothpaste, buttons, and a small comb towards the completion of the contents of the Friendship Bags. These Friendship Bags are to be sent to Czechoslovakia by our troop.

We then took inventory of every piece of furniture, all literature, and all supplies in Girl Scout Headquarters.

The group sang "Finlandia", "Vesper Song", and "Girl Scouts

NOTICE!

We, the undersigned, who are owners of restaurant licenses with the privilege of selling alcoholic beverages, do hereby serve notice to their patrons that beginning February 1, 1946, the following closing hours will be observed in the City of Circleville by the undersigned:

SATURDAYS: No alcoholic beverages will be served after 11:45 p. m. and patrons will be asked to vacate the premises by 12:00 o'clock midnight.

WEEKDAYS EXCEPT SATURDAY: No alcoholic beverages will be served after 12:45 a. m. and patrons will be asked to vacate the premises by 1:00 o'clock a. m.

Owners who observe earlier closing hours will continue to close at the earlier hour.

The undersigned recognize and respect the difficulties arising in the sale of intoxicating liquors and especially the presence of minors in such places of business.

Prior to Dec. 28, 1938, the State law forbade any minor to ENTER INTO any premises where intoxicating liquors were sold. This law was REPEALED on that date by the Ohio General Assembly with the result that there is NO LAW TODAY forbidding minors to enter into said premises. The only law applicable is Section 12960 of the General Code of Ohio as follows:

"Whoever sells intoxicating liquor to a minor under the age of 21 years or sells beer to a minor under the age of 18, or buys intoxicating liquor for, or furnishes it to a minor, unless given by a physician in the regular line of his practice, or by a parent or legal guardian shall be fined not less than $25.00 or more than $300.00, or imprisoned not more than six months in jail, or both."

We desire for the public to know that we have NO AUTHORITY to order a minor out of a place of business as long as he or she is accompanied by his parent, guardian or custodian or as long as he or she conduct themselves in a proper manner.

We do hereby PLEDGE ourselves to do everything in our power to combat the giving of liquor to a minor by his or her parent or custodian, and to conduct our places of business in an orderly and decent manner. We do feel, however, that the blame for the presence of minors in such establishments lays at the doorstep of the Ohio General Assembly and not with the local law enforcement officers. They cannot enforce laws that do not exist nor can the undersigned. We are welcoming suggestions from the public and are now working on a system to control all persons under 21 years of age. This plan will be announced as soon as completed.

CHS TIGERS TRY FOR REVENGE AT WILMINGTON

Four County League Games On Schedule Friday As Tigers Travel

Circleville high school cagers will be out-of-town Friday night while four Pickaway county league games are being played.

The Tigers will go to Wilmington where they will try to get even for a defeat by the Hurricane team here.

In the county New Holland, leading the league, will attempt to tighten its hold on first place at Pickaway. Although the Pickaway record is not too good New Holland is not expecting an easy game because the Pickaway team has a habit of staging good ball games.

Monroe, after losing to New Holland and Ashville in consecutive games, will try to get back on the winning side of the ledger with Perry as the guest team. Perry has lost three games.

Scioto hopes to bounce back from a defeat at Ashville with a win over Washington this week.

In the other game Jackson plays at Darby. Last week Jackson scored an overtime win over Perry. Darby won over Pickaway Wednesday night. The game will be homecoming at Darby with a dance to follow the contest.

Deer Creek and Salt Creek played their game scheduled for Friday Tuesday night.

Perry township cagers won two games Wednesday night at Atlanta. Mt. Sterling varsity was defeated 36-25 and the Perry reserves won 28-6.

Circleville supporters are hoping the Tigers will be "up" again Friday after a letdown Tuesday night. They believe that if the Tigers are "on" they can score their second league win and get revenge for the defeat Wilmington hung on them here.

VA WILL MAKE SURVEY TO SEE ABOUT FLETCHER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 — The veterans administration will make a new survey of personnel at Fletcher general hospital at Cambridge, O., to determine if it can be operated as a veterans' hospital.

Maj. Gen. Paul R. Hawley, VA medical director, said today.

Gen. Hawley told a delegation of Ohio Republican congressmen that "the VA has not asked for Fletcher... for the reason that at the moment we can see no highly qualified medical staff in sight."

He added that VA representatives will interview members of the hospital staff to learn how many would remain there if the hospital were operated by the VA and "what their qualifications are."

The congressmen who conferred with Hawley today for more than an hour were J. Harry McGregor, West Lafayette; Alvin Weichel, Sandusky; Edward McCowen, Wheelersburg; Robert Jones, Lima; Earl Lewis, St. Clairsville; and Tom Jenkins, Ironton.

PLASTIC CHEWING GUM
CHICAGO (U.P.)—Plastics magazine has reported the invention of a new chewing gum with a plastic base.

The plastic gum, it is claimed does not stick to furniture or floors, retains flavor longer and withstands moisture and extreme temperatures.

The inventor is J. E. Moose, Anniston, Ala.

Large areas of Wyoming in 1892 were "wide open spaces" uncrossed by surveyed lines.

The average freight train had 53 cars in 1944, only 39 in 1924.

TRADE RUMORS FLY AS MAJOR MOGULS MEET

NEW YORK, Jan. 31—Major league club owners gathered today for the final pow-wow before the start of the 1946 season, but practically all hands were afraid to make player deals because there was no accurate measuring stick of the quality of players.

Every club in both leagues has more players than it knows what to do with. Stars of the 1945 campaign will be relegated to bench warming jobs in 1946, if indeed they will not be forced to take minor league jobs or leave the game entirely.

The same trade rumors that have been afloat since the World Series were circulating, but whether any of the executives would be able to meet on common ground and peddle talent was questionable.

First of all, the executives were concerned over just how well their top diamond stars who went into military service will be able to reconvert to their peacetime baseball jobs.

Next, they are wondering about their interim stars of so-called "duration" baseball. Some of the top hands from the 1942 through 1945 seasons who were not called into military service will be outstanding enough to compete with the better players who were called up. Moreover, they will have the advantage of added years of competition.

Finally, each club has a generous crop of rookies from minor league clubs that was left unharvested after the 1945 season because of the great influx of returning servicemen. It is the considered opinion of most baseball men that a bona fide rookie able to make the grade in 1946 must be particularly outstanding because he not only is competing against the regular field of established stars, but with the returning crew of servicemen, many of whom were little more than rookies themselves when called.

The congressmen who conferred with Hawley today for more than an hour were J. Harry McGregor, West Lafayette; Alvin Weichel, Sandusky; Edward McCowen, Wheelersburg; Robert Jones, Lima; Earl Lewis, St. Clairsville; and Tom Jenkins, Ironton.

Large areas of Wyoming in 1892 were "wide open spaces" uncrossed by surveyed lines.

The average freight train had 53 cars in 1944, only 39 in 1924.

DARBY FIVE WINS OVER PICKAWAY

Visitors Lead All The Way In Postponed County League Contest

Darby township cagers grabbed a 34-30 victory at Pickaway township school Wednesday night in a postponed Pickaway county league game.

Darby led all the way but the home team made a big bid to win in the last part of the game. Darby had a 9-5 first period advantage; led 22-14 at the half; 30-25 at the end of the third quarter.

Ogan of the losers was high point man with 13 points. Sweet had 12 for Darby.

Pickaway reserves won 25-20.

STRIKES

EARLY this week there were nearly 2,000,000 people in this country out of work. It was an unusual phenomenon in American life. Nearly all of them were idle not because there was no work for them to do, but quite the contrary. The whole nation was eager to get back to constructive and profitable work after the long war period.

The trouble now was a voluntary variation of the recent military war, now internal and industrial. The legions of labor were fighting now for more pay, and the forces of orderly governmental economy at Washington were trying to hold them back, at least long enough for an orderly retreat.

Few Americans will grudge more pay for men in the big industries, or any other industries, if it can be clearly shown that by reasonable standards they are not getting fair recompense for their work. But Americans in general resent any procedure which comes by force or coercion. This is not only a free country, but supposedly a country where law and order prevail. Part of such law and order is obviously to settle wage problems by peaceful procedures.

THEIR PROMISED LAND

MORE than 30 foreign-born boys have entered the United States illegally, lured by hope of a brighter future than their impoverished homelands can offer. Some have come as GI "mascots" and the GIs have not discouraged them. Others have adventured as stowaways. They come from Italy, France, Eire, England, Czechoslovakia, Africa, Albania, Yugoslavia, Belgium, Russia, China and the Philippines. They present a real problem to Ellis Island immigration authorities, who have set up special sections for the lads, including school rooms manned by regular teachers; recreation areas and dining rooms. It is indeed a polyglot youth group practising everyday internationalism.

Legal aspects covering these juvenile irregulars are manifold, and considerable time is required for contacts with home governments. Some are paroled to American families during the wait. Others are sent back to their native lands rather quickly. Some will be allowed to remain in this country. And who knows but what another Michael Pupin, the Serbian-born inventor, will be among them?

It was a good idea for those astronomers to get into contact with the moon—we know a lot of fellows who would feel at home there.

Do you know, some people don't know yet what UNO is?

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31—State Secretary Byrnes came back from London without saying much. He had a forty minute conference with Mr. Truman and held an off-the-record press conference which developed no news. Those who saw him judged he was satisfied with the beginnings of the United Nations organization, but frankly, it must be reported little enthusiasm is evident backstage here. The inner comment runs to platitudes, lacking any moving depth of inspiration for the better world. The organization has been set up, but what it will amount to, rests with incalculable events of the future, and everyone can plainly see the natural conflicts of world politics exhibited to date, forecast an uneasy future.

The Russians, for example, sought to force up the questions of British influence in Greece and Anglo-Dutch empire domination of Indonesia purely as a matter of politics to counteract the claims that they had seized Iran. Neither the Greeks nor the Indonesians were complaining. No issue or conflict had been presented, in contrast with the affair of Iran, where the government had protested strenuously against Russia's protection of the Communist revolutionaries—until a pro-Russian premier took over the Teheran government this past weekend.

The Russians just tried to work up an issue to make trouble for the British and Dutch in the security council. It furnished typical evidence of Russian tactics, which are the basic cause of the lack of enthusiasm for the future of the organization.

Behind this situation, there exists a natural feeling that Russia is not too strong for UNO and may succeed in restraining its activities to courses which are acceptable to Russia, thus greatly limiting its future scope and power. This Russian position is understandable. In the big three and big five meetings Moscow generally has been able to get her way, but in the United Nations assembly, where she must face the whole world of the smaller nations, her causes have not fared so well. She was beaten three times in this first meeting of the assembly, failing to elect her candidate as president, being unable to break the secret ballot system, or to limit the size of the steering committee, upon which 51 nations now are to be represented.

Then, quite significantly, Molotov did not attend the meeting, but sent Vishinsky, who incidentally, arrived late.

But outside the UNO, Russia is picking up power through Europe and Asia, greater than any nation has accumulated in our time. The only really formidable resistance has developed in nations where the Christian churches are strong, which explains the constant attacks of her press against the Vatican particularly. By her very nature, Russia is not alone a nation but a world revolutionary political movement. Hence it is impossible that she could be appeased with any limited amount of territory or power. The struggles of Chinese or French Communists for instance, cannot be resolved and settled. A working truce is the utmost possible.

Up to a morning of rain, one of the very few in too long a time. A cistern dry since early Fall the indicator, and still not enough water to permit cutting it into the house system. Out to release and feed the chickens. Keep them locked in at night for they represent investment and labor I have no intention of turning over to the skunk I have smelled a few times in the neighborhood. Back, then, for coffee and cranked the wagon for the downtown trip.

Chatted with Bob Hunter who is doing such a good job for Jim Brown in the store opened about nine months ago. May lose Bob soon, for it is reported he soon is to go to Cleveland as assistant to the company big name. Saw Nat Lefko at a distance, but no chance to speak. Nat and Eddie Rothman really make a busy pair in Rothman's fine store. Not often that one meets either of them downtown.

Met Judge Crist who asked about a "rumor" to the effect that my nightly beaker of milk is really half rum and half milk. Not unless George's Guernseys are turning it out that way, and I think not for George totes away their product each day. Half rum and he would have a long waiting line at each milking. And I would not be in the line, for rum is entirely lacking in appeal to me. Tastes a lot like what I think crank case drainings would taste like.

Came postcards from Dave Dunlap and Ray Bales. Both in sunny Florida. Dave sent a picture of the overseas highway to Key West. Wrote that the storm did considerable damage south of Miami, and that the state is jammed with visitors. Praises the climate and suggests that I run down for a while. Excellent idea if it could be done, which it can not. Ray is on the other coast not far from Sarasota and says he is none to well, but is hoping for the best. His card is of royal poinciana and jacaranda trees. Oh yes, Florida is fine for a Winter vacation.

Met and chatted with Bugs McCrady, the police chief, whose department is entirely too small to do all it should and would like to do. Spent much of the afternoon with a salesman and placed a sizeable order, this and that I need right now. Asked about delivery date and was calmly informed, March, 1947, "unless the steel strike lasts too long." Went right out, cranked the wagon and headed toward home on that one. Recovered in time to attend a courthouse meeting in the evening. Home at a late hour and straightway to bed except for a brief stop at the refrigerator for a beaker of milk. A beaker of milk that is.

Lung Ill Harming the Heart

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

IN THE lungs, there are millions of little air sacs that pass the oxygen from the air to the blood. When these air sacs become stretched or dilated, the condition is called pulmonary emphysema. According to Doctors Edgar Mayer and Israel Rapaport of New York City, this condition is often the first sign of gradual heart failure.

They think that the increasing number of people who are suffering from this condition is due to the increasing incidence of heart disease in the middle-aged population, as well as to exposure of modern industrial workers to dust, vapors and fumes.

X-Ray of Chest

Pulmonary emphysema is diagnosed by an examination given by the doctor, together with an X-ray of the chest. On examination, it is found that the chest is fixed, that is, the breathing movements are restricted. There are also wheezes and whistling sounds during breathing. The X-ray will show certain areas of the lungs which are overdistended.

As emphysema continues, cough, shortness of breath, and a bluish color to the skin known as cyanosis, develop. During its early stages, known as the first period, this disease may go unrecognized for years. The second period, in which there is difficulty in breathing, as well as some circulatory failure, may last for from two to six years. Sooner or later there may be gradual failure of the heart, due to the strain put on it by the breathing difficulty.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

H. E. S.: Please tell me if there is any way I can reduce the abdomen and hips.

Answer: I have outlined some suggestions concerning reducing.

If you will send a stamped self-addressed envelope, I shall be glad to send this material to you. These instructions will aid you in following your physician's advice. Your name will not be used.

T. M.: Will you please tell me something about "burning" feet?

Answer: "Burning" feet may be due to a number of different conditions, such as ringworm, excessive perspiration, various skin conditions, and certain conditions affecting the nerves of the feet.

Lung Inspection

In treating pulmonary emphysema, it is important that everything possible be done to prevent lung infection. The use of the sulfonamide drugs and penicillin may be of some help from this standpoint. Rest and breathing exercises are also of help. The breathing in of oxygen also gives relief from the symptoms. If there is heart failure, the use of digitalis, a drug which slows and strengthens the heart beat, is of value.

Of course, it is important that pulmonary emphysema be recognized as early as possible when it develops. Regular physical examinations of persons who are exposed to dust and fumes will lead to the early detection of this condition in these persons, particularly if X-rays of the chest are taken from time to time. Once the condition is known to be present, treatment as described above for it should be started without delay and everything possible done to keep it from progressing.

most beautiful thing I've ever owned."

"I will never understand you," said Sawn. A slightly malicious look came over his face. "I take comfort in the fact that you don't know me any better. All that I do is dissertation about my Don Juanism. I outgrew that years ago. And the blonde—you were wrong about her, old girl." He grimmed. "In fact, for such a psychologically alert lassie, you've shown yourself a little thick, you know. Your second husband was actually guilty of what you suspected of me. You never tumbed to it at all."

Victoria sat down, somewhat deflated. "You're right," she said. "I didn't." She brightened. "But I knew Albert, in a way. Because I knew what his day dream was. We all have day dreams we never tell. If you know what a person's day dream is, you know the essence of him. And I think I guessed Albert's."

She stood up again, and began to walk the room rather slowly. "Albert's day dream was on the end of the journey, the moment celebrating some final gain, after which he would be rich, and happy. That moment went something like this: To a woman standing near a mirror in an elegant room containing Louis Quinze furniture, Albert would hand a black velvet box. The woman would open it and then gasp at a magnificent necklace. Albert would fasten the clasp while she stared with wonder at her reflection in the mirror. Albert would pour them a large glass of champagne, and they would quaff it. Albert would light a dollar cigar with a ten-dollar bill and she would listen with admiration while he told her how he had been born poor on the streets of Chicago."

A new thought struck Victoria. She paused in the center of the room. She raised her hand, looked down at the sapphire ring. "How sad," she said aloud. "How very sad." She looked up at Sawn's watching face. "I think this ring is the only jewel he ever bought a woman."

Sawn asked softly: "And what is your day dream, Victoria?" She shook her head from side to side. "That's something I never tell anyone."

STRIKES

EARLY this week there were nearly 2,000,000 people in this country out of work. It was an unusual phenomenon in American life. Nearly all of them were idle not because there was no work for them to do, but quite the contrary. The whole nation was eager to get back to constructive and profitable work after the long war period. The trouble now was a voluntary variation of the recent military war, now internal and industrial. The legions of labor were fighting now for more pay, and the forces of orderly governmental economy at Washington were trying to hold them back, at least long enough for an orderly retreat.

Few Americans will grudge more pay for men in the big industries, or any other industries, if it can be clearly shown that by reasonable standards they are not getting fair recompense for their work. But Americans in general resent any procedure which comes by force or coercion. This is not only a free country, but supposedly a country where law and order prevail. Part of such law and order is obviously to settle wage problems by peaceful procedures.

THEIR PROMISED LAND

MORE than 30 foreign-born boys have entered the United States illegally, lured by hope of a brighter future than their impoverished homelands can offer. Some have come as GI "mascots" and the GIs have not discouraged them. Others have adventured as stowaways. They come from Italy, France, Eire, England, Czechoslovakia, Africa, Albania, Yugoslavia, Belgium, Russia, China and the Philippines. They present a real problem to Ellis Island immigration authorities, who have set up special sections for the lads, including school rooms manned by regular teachers; recreation areas and dining rooms. It is indeed a polyglot youth group practising everyday internationalism.

Legal aspects covering these juvenile irregulars are manifold, and considerable time is required for contacts with home governments. Some are paroled to American families during the wait. Others are sent back to their native lands rather quickly. Some will be allowed to remain in this country. And who knows but what another Michael Pupin, the Serbian-born inventor, will be among them?

It was a good idea for those astronomers to get into contact with the moon—we know a lot of fellows who would feel at home there.

Do you know, some people don't know yet what UNO is?

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

WAshington, Jan. 31—State Secretary Byrnes came back from London without saying much. He had a forty minute conference with Mr. Truman and held an off-the-record press conference which developed no news. Those who saw him judged he was satisfied with the beginnings of the United Nations organization, but frankly, it must be reported little enthusiasm is evident backstage here. The inner comment runs to platitudes, lacking any moving depth of inspiration for the better world. The organization has been set up, but what it will amount to, rests with incalculable events of the future, and everyone can plainly see the natural conflicts of world politics exhibited to date, forecast an uneasy future.

The Russians, for example, sought to force up the questions of British influence in Greece and Anglo-Dutch empire domination of Indonesia purely as a matter of politics to counteract the claims that they had seized Iran. Neither the Greeks nor the Indonesians were complaining. No issue or conflict had been presented, in contrast with the affair of Iran, where the government had protested strenuously against Russia's protection of the Communist revolutionaries—until a pro-Russian premier took over the Teheran government this past weekend.

The Russians just tried to work up an issue to make trouble for the British and Dutch in the security council. It furnished typical evidence of Russian tactics, which are the basic cause of the lack of enthusiasm for the future of the organization.

Behind this situation, there exists a natural feeling that Russia is not too strong for UNO and may succeed in restraining its activities to courses which are acceptable to Russia, thus greatly limiting its future scope and power. This Russian position is understandable. In the big three and big five meetings Moscow generally has been able to get her way, but in the United Nations assembly, where she must face the whole world of the smaller nations, her causes have not fared so well. She was beaten three times in this first meeting of the assembly, failing to elect her candidate as president, being unable to break the secret ballot system, or to limit the size of the steering committee, upon which 51 nations now are to be represented.

CHAPTER FORTY-TWO

VICTORIA'S brief philosophy left her suddenly. She leaned sharply toward Tuck. "But look!" she said loudly. "How will you ever prove that I didn't kill Albert? That I didn't put the poison into his coffee? His affair with Moira Hastings gives me a motive for killing him, if I were jealous! That leaves only the ring, and why he ordered it. Is that enough against him?"

Tuck sighed. "That," he said, "is the catch. The risk, I think, is too great. That's why this case is going to be one of my failures. Froody will know. He always knows. The papers will say death by accident, which is quite true."

Two months after Albert's death Victoria was working in her den when the doorbell rang. It rang again and then she realized that Hazel was at the market. Grumbling to herself, she ran down the hall and opened the door. Sawn was on the porch.

"First leave I've had," he said. "So I thought I'd drop in to see how things were by you."

He entered the house and looked about him. "I wasn't sure you'd be here. I thought you might have moved."

"Why would I move?" she asked, as they walked down to the living room.

"Well," said Sawn, "unpleasant associations, you know."

"If I HAD rented this house and moved somewhere else, it wouldn't have altered the fact that Albert tried to kill me here," said Victoria.

"No," agreed Sawn cautiously.

"I'm working," said Victoria, as they sat down on the sofa, "on a new story. But you can stay for a little while."

After they had lighted cigarettes she said: "It's really a wonderful idea that I've got!" She felt her idea take possession of her. She stood up, and began to walk it out, Sawn watching from the sofa. She talked for 20 minutes, dropping ashes until her cigarette was too short to smoke, at which point she put it out in a small dish containing candy. She realized this too late. The sapphire on her right hand flashed blue fire as she gestured. "What do you think?" she asked at last as she tucked in the tail of her shirt, which had somehow come out.

"Sounds all right," said Sawn. "But there's something that interests me more. That ring you're wearing. Didn't the departed Albert give you that?"

She looked at the gem on her hand. "Oh, yes."

"And yet you wear it." He shook his head from side to side. "You puzzle me, little friend."

"There's no sadness to wearing it," she said. "When a gift outlasts the sentiment that prompted it, that's sad. This ring was given without sentiment. So I can wear it. It's a beautiful ring. It's the

• 100 Couples Attend Birthday Ball Here

Howdy Gorman Band Is Featured At Legion Dance

About one hundred couples were present in Memorial Hall Wednesday evening when the annual President's Birthday Ball was held. Proceeds from the party and similar parties all over the United States will be used to combat infantile paralysis.

Dancing was to the music of Howdy Gorman's orchestra which was very pleasing to the dancers. Swing music was played from 10 p. m. until 2 a. m. and featured with the orchestra were the vocalists, Jerry and Juanita, familiarly known as the two Jays. The solo saxophonist and vocalist, Loren Pace, a Circleville resident, was another feature. Harold Dresbach, also of Circleville, pleased the crowd as drummer.

The committee in charge of the party was comprised of members of the American Legion who sponsored the affair. All of the members are service men from World War II. The committee expressed themselves as being much pleased with the orchestra and arranged to have the band play for a similar party in Memorial Hall February 14 when the Legion will sponsor a Valentine Dance.

Committee members who will also serve for the Valentine Dance were Ned Harden, William Kellstadt, Jack White, James Henderson, George Speakman, Tom Dewey and Emanuel Hundley.

The dance was a success from both a social as well as financial one the committee announced. The crowd was not quite up to the usual President's birthday dance but was large enough to permit an enjoyable evening.

Youth Fellowship Members Enjoy Valentine Party

Arrangements of Valentine symbols and red and white streamers artistically decorated the Sunday School room of Morris Chapel when seven members of the Youth Fellowship society met Tuesday for the annual St. Valentine party and monthly business session.

The theme of the meeting was "Love for Christ". Group singing of "Take My Hand Precious Lord" opened the service which was followed by prayer by Miss Helen Pontius. A responsive scripture lesson was taken from thirteenth chapter of I Corinthians.

A reading "St. Valentine's Sunshine" was given by Miss Mabel Holbrook. The Lord's Prayer in unison completed the evening's program.

Short talks were given by several members who were at Soul's Harbor, Columbus, Monday evening to hear Percy Crawford and Male Quartet of Philadelphia, Pa.

Revival meetings at the Morris U. B. Church will be attended by the class in a body, February 12, it was decided.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served from a buffet table centered with a palm leaf arrangement and lighted by tall red and white tapers in crystal holders.

Contests were conducted during the social hour followed by a Valentine exchange.

Miss Helen Dunkle and Miss Mary Ann Drake were appointed on the program committee for the March meeting.

Members were asked to bring a guest to the meeting. The guest list included William Holbrook, Luther Wilson, Merle Radcliff, Pearl Green, Charles Holbrook, Richard Davis, Fred Brown, Rosemary Green and Betty Wilson.

Girl Scout Leaders Hear Reports On Camping Conference

Sixteen members of the board of directors of the Girl Scout association met in headquarters Wednesday evening and heard a report by Mrs. M. E. Noggle, camping committee chairman of the Tri State camping conference which she attended in Cincinnati at the Y. W. C. A. January 28 through 29.

Mrs. Noggle gave a detailed report of the meeting which was presided over by Miss Elin Lindberg, national camping director from headquarters in New York and Miss Fanchon Hamilton, regional director, Cleveland. Mrs. Noggle then outlined plans that had been made by her committee for the coming year and of the new camp site of the local troops.

Mrs. Bernard Young was in charge of the meeting and heard a report from Mrs. Carle Snider, newly appointed program chairman who gave plans for the February meeting. A vesper service will be held on "Thinking Day," February 22, at headquarters and on March 12 the association's birthday and international ceremony will be observed at headquarters.

Mrs. Richard Weldon was appointed leader and Miss Margaret Oyer, assistant leader of the newly formed troop 8 which is sponsored by the Child Study club.

A report by Mrs. Ralph Curtin revealed that the girls of the local troops had gathered 145 articles of clothing for the recent Victory clothing drive. Miss Eddie Birmingham was appointed assistant leader of scout troop 1 of which Miss Doris Schreiner is leader.

Announcement was made of the appointment of Mrs. Roger Hedges to membership in the association as chairman of the Ashville program director. Mrs. Fred Grant was appointed to membership in the association as a committee member of the Brownie troop 7.

• 100 Couples Attend Birthday Ball Here

Howdy Gorman Band Is Featured At Legion Dance

About one hundred couples were present in Memorial Hall Wednesday evening when the annual President's Birthday Ball was held. Proceeds from the party and similar parties all over the United States will be used to combat infantile paralysis.

Dancing was to the music of Howdy Gorman's orchestra which was very pleasing to the dancers. Swing music was played from 10 p. m. until 2 a. m. and featured with the orchestra were the vocalists, Jerry and Juanita, familiarly known as the two Jays. The solo saxophonist and vocalist, Loren Pace, a Circleville resident, was another feature. Harold Dresbach, also of Circleville, pleased the crowd as drummer.

The committee in charge of the party was comprised of members of the American Legion who sponsored the affair. All of the members are service men from World War II. The committee expressed themselves as being much pleased with the orchestra and arranged to have the band play for a similar party in Memorial Hall February 14 when the Legion will sponsor a Valentine Dance.

Committee members who will also serve for the Valentine Dance were Ned Harden, William Kellstadt, Jack White, James Henderson, George Speakman, Tom Dewey and Emanuel Hundley.

The dance was a success from both a social as well as financial one the committee announced. The crowd was not quite up to the usual President's birthday dance but was large enough to permit an enjoyable evening.

OTHMAN LIKES WAY PRESIDENT ENJOYS DINNERS

Scribe Believes That Truman Likes Chicken With Lace Paper Ruffles

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Jan. 31—Either a man likes roast chicken with lace paper ruffles, or he doesn't. I'm beginning to believe that President Truman does.

No President since William H. Taft, according to my gastronomic research, had a better appetite or plowed through more banquets. Mr. Truman averages a little better than one a week. These range from the B-3 or peas-in-paper-cups meals to the AAA-1 dinners, which start with sherried consomme, proceed with terrapin a la Maryland (a stew you eat with a spoon), reach their climax with steak broiled in butter, taper off with anchovies rampant on head lettuce, and end with pink ice cream under white goo. (Sometimes it's white ice cream under pink goo.)

Mr. Truman also eats frequently with friends at the Burning Tree Country club and elsewhere; at least twice so far he's been faced with the problem of putting away two dinners on the same evening. When that happens he pecks at both. He seldom gets to eat alone with Mrs. Truman and his daughter, Margaret.

"Even when I eat at home," he once remarked ruefully, "it looks as if there's always somebody in for supper."

Take Saturday. He had lunch with Missouri congressmen in the house dining room (steak, mushrooms, strawberries and ice cream, etc.) and dinner with the radio correspondents at a hotel. Coming up are more meals with the White House correspondents, the ladies of the press, and the Democrats who are plunking down $100 a plate on Jackson day.

These facts I have jotted down in admiration. As an old banquetter, myself, I do not see how he does it. Many years ago there was a young and round-faced reporter in Chicago named Othman, who usually spent most of his week's pay on his night off in what we'll call research. That left him with the serious problem on the other six nights of eating.

Into the office every morning came tickets entitling reporters to free seats at whatever banquets were on that night. I shuffled through these, choosing the one that seemed to promise the best food. I ate with the ladies of the WCTU, the Association of Dental Tool Makers and the Benevolent Organization of Bootleggers. (That last was a dinner I won't soon forget.) I ate bear once with the Lions; somebody else served rattlesnake meat. I chopped my chicken with gold fish fanciers, politicians, union suit makers, and the local branch of the American Beagles society. When a dog catering company de luxe opened for business, I tried that cuisine; not bad, either.

Banquets in general consisted for me then, as they do for the President now, of the coolish chicken in the ruffled paper underwear, the dab of peas, the fried potatoes growing soggy, the small cup of coffee too long from the fire, the two pale cookies and the small mound of ice cream melting in the large dish. This was my diet and upon it I wasted away; my marriage was my salvation. My bride said had I noticed that women seldom went to banquets? And practically never developed ulcers?

Now when I must sit on a gilded chair at a public dinner, she feeds me first; it may even be that Mrs. Truman follows this same procedure, but of course you can't expect her to say so. Banquet committees are sensitive about the food and easily insulted.

OTHMAN LIKES WAY PRESIDENT ENJOYS DINNERS

Scribe Believes That Truman Likes Chicken With Lace Paper Ruffles

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Jan. 31—Eighth man likes roast chicken with lace paper ruffles, or he doesn't. In beginning to believe that President Truman does.

President since William H. Taft, according to my gastronomic research, had a better appetite or plowed through more banquets. Mr. Truman averages a little better than one a week. These range from the B-3 or peas-in-paper-cups meals to the AAA-1 dinners, which start with sherry consomme, proceed with terrapin à la Maryland (a stew you eat with a spoon), reach their climax with steak broiled in butter, taper off with anchovies rampant on head lettuce, and end with pink ice cream under white goo. (Sometimes it's white ice cream under pink goo.)

Mr. Truman also eats frequently with friends at the Burning Tree Country club and elsewhere; at least twice so far he's been faced with the problem of putting away two dinners on the same evening. When that happens he pecks at both. He seldom gets to eat alone with Mrs. Truman and his daughter, Margaret.

"Even when I eat at home," he once remarked ruefully, "it looks as if there's always somebody in for supper."

Take Saturday. He had lunch with Missouri congressmen in the house dining room (steak, mushrooms, strawberries and ice cream, etc.) and dinner with the radio correspondents at a hotel. Coming up are more meals with the White House correspondents, the ladies of the press, and the Democrats who are plunking down $100 a plate on Jackson day.

These facts I have jotted down in admiration. As an old banqueter, myself, I do not see how he does it. Many years ago there was a young and round-faced reporter in Chicago named Othman, who usually spent most of his week's pay on his night off in what we'll call research. That left him with the serious problem on the other six nights of eating.

Into the office every morning came tickets entitling reporters to free seats at whatever banquets were on that night. I shuffled through these, choosing the one that seemed to promise the best food. I ate with the ladies of the WCTU, the Association of Dental Tool Makers and the Benevolent Organization of Bootleggers. (That last was a dinner I won't soon forget.) I ate bear once with the Lions; somebody else served rattlesnake meat. I chomped my chicken with gold fish fanciers, politicians, union suit makers, and the local branch of the American Begonia society. When a dog catering company de luxe opened for business, I tried that cuisine; not bad, either.

Banquets in general consisted for me then, as they do for the President now, of the coolish chicken in the ruffled paper underwear, the dab of peas, the fried potatoes growing soggy, the small cup of coffee too long from the fire, the two pale cookies and the small mould of ice cream melting in the large dish. This was my diet and upon it I wasted away; my marriage was my salvation. My bride said had I noticed that women seldom went to banquets? And practically never developed ulcers?

Now when I must sit on a gilded chair at a public dinner, she feeds me first; it may even be that Mrs. Truman follows this same procedure, but of course you can't expect her to say so. Banquet committees are sensitive about the food and easily insulted.

COMPLETES 'BRAND' RUG
POMONA, Cal. (U.P.)—After more than a year's work, Miss Alma Brown has put the last stitches in a huge rug made from old stockings and bearing the brands of the famous Montana cattle ranches.

The rug will hang in the V Lazy U ranch, owned by Dr. George D. Brown, Miss Brown's nephew.

PIONEERS PASS AWAY
PHOENIX, Ariz. (U.P.)—Within the space of a week, death claimed four of Arizona's most prominent pioneers here recently. Lloyd Christy, former mayor of Phoenix; Tod Rees, veteran cattleman; Dave Heron, silver mine developer; and Tony Trojanovich, another mine developer, all died in one week.

MANY SOUNDS PRODUCED ON NEW 'GADGET'

Breath Of Spring One Of Sounds Made In Very Secret Instrument

BY DAVID C. WHITNEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Have you ever heard the breath of Spring? Or a dinosaur roar? Or a giraffe shriek?

Those sounds, or any that strike the fancy, can be produced on a new electrical instrument developed by Dr. Harvey Fletcher of the Bell Telephone laboratories.

The machine, which should help the sound effects industry, was demonstrated at the annual meeting of the American Physical Society.

Deveped five years ago, the machine was kept a war secret until revealed by Dr. Fletcher.

The machine is two feet high, four feet long, and a foot wide. It is controlled by a keyboard of 100 variable potentiometers, and can produce any of the millions of sounds known to men plus a few million, no one has even thought of.

Called a "tone synthesizer" by Dr. Fletcher, it was produced to measure precisely a tone's pitch, intensity, duration, and other principal characteristics.

The 700 physics teachers who were present at the instrument's unveiling were impressed with the realism of various sounds that were made—the ringing of a church bell, and the piping of a flute.

Dr. Fletcher said that he could visualize a great many practical uses to which the machine may be put.

The argument between violin virtuosos as to the respective merits of a stradivarius violin and a modern instrument may be settled by the tone synthesizer which can explain just why a given tone is the way it is.

Musical composers may use the machine to produce tones and shadings which never before have been conceived—even by Stravinsky.

The sounds from the machine come from the rotation of a shaft on which the noise is recorded magnetically. By varying the settings of the hundred control knobs a mathematically incalculable number of noises may be produced.

When the instrument made like a cathedral organ it was so deeply vibrant that the walls of the auditorium shook.

The Northern cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn., are in the same hockey league as Dallas, Texas.

RAVENNA BOY WINS PRINCE OF PEACE CONTEST

COLUMBUS, Jan. 31—Chris DeJohn, Ravenna, won first place in the 21st annual Prince of Peace declamation contest sponsored by the Ohio Council of Churches at the Ohio Pastor's convention Wednesday.

DeJohn spoke on "Sin's Birthday" to win first prize which gave him a four-year college scholarship and $200.

Second place went to Richard

Hintzleter of Canton. Betty Gillespie of Toledo won third prize.

Hintzleter won a two-year college scholarship and $100. Gillespie's prize was a one-year scholarship and $50.

Three other contestants received $25 each. They were Minton Brees, Springfield; George Kerner, Newton Falls; and Maurice Heiler, Canton.

The contest is conducted among state high school students with six finalists selected to appear at the Pastors' convention. Bishop

G. Bronley Oxnan of New York, president of the federal council of churches, was hailed at the convention yesterday as bishop of a united world protestantism.

Dr. Oxnan was "nominated" by the Rev. B. F. Lamb, executive secretary of the Ohio Council of Churches.

BANDIT SOUGHT IN CHILlicothe KNOWN HERE?

'Stickup' Man May Be Same Who Burglarized Lumber Company Here

The thieves or thief who removed $200 from the safe of the Circleville Lumber Company January 8 may still be at large according to a report from Chillicothe.

A bandit, believed to be the same gunman who held up the Warner hotel in Chillicothe January 8, flashed a gun on three persons in Chillicothe's Majestic hotel Tuesday at 11:25 p.m. and escaped with $125.

The thief is believed to be implicated in all three robberies, police said. Three persons were in the lobby when the man entered, dressed in dark clothing and with outer coat lapels hiding the lower portion of his face.

Frank Oberer, night clerk, was on duty chatting with Miss Amy Bower, a guest, and Carey Collins, a merchant policeman, who had dropped in while on his rounds.

The bandit brandished a gun, shoved it at Officer Collins, then waved it toward the other two as he said, "This is a stickup." He then herded the three persons into the hallway leading to the rear from the lobby, with his gun at Mr. Oberer's back.

He ordered the two men to lay their money on a desk in the hallway. Mr. Oberer contributed $10 and the officer, $12.50. The woman was not accosted or molested in any way.

He then demanded that Mr. Oberer open the safe, but Mr. Oberer said no money was kept there. The thief let out an oath and left.

Police were notified within a five-minute period after the thief had told them to remain quiet for five minutes and from the description police believe the man to be the same one who secured $74 in the Warner hotel lobby holdup.

DISCHARGEES TO GET MORE TIME

Ex-Servicemen Given 90 Days To Return To Service Under New Plan

Hundreds of men who have returned to civil life are expected to return to the Army under the latest enlistment inducement.

Lt. Col. Francis Hoermann, commanding officer of the Columbus Army recruiting station, said that the Army has decided to give discharges 90 days to return with their present grade and pay scale. Twenty days has been the present deadline.

"We have found that men need longer than 20 days to make up their minds about civilian life," Lt. Col. Hoermann stated, "so the January 31 deadline so widely advertised has been thrown out."

Men who rejoined the Army after their 20 days had elapsed will be promoted immediately to their former highest Army grade, it was pointed out. These men now have the rank of private.

This latest enlistment inducement joins re-enlistment bonuses, an improved retirement plan, and many other benefits in the Army's campaign to attract 1,600,000 men to the Regular Army.

It was pointed out, however, that after June 30, the 20-day deadline will again be in force. It is hoped that the Regular Army will be at peacetime strength by that date.

Discharged officers also have 90 days in which to return to the Army as master or first sergeant. Once in service, former officers may apply for commissions. They must appear before officer boards of review which are now being established.

Men discharged as privates may be promoted to private first class immediately following their enlistment if they have had at least six months' service.

SPECIAL SINGERS WILL BE HEARD AT TARLTON

The four Moore sisters from Crooksville will sing Saturday night at the evangelistic services at the Tarlton Methodist church.

A children's chorus has been singing at all the services. The pastor, the Rev. Charles E. Palmer, is being assisted by the Rev. and Mrs. Snyder, singers and evangelists.

Lt. Col. Francis Hoermann, commanding officer of the Columbus Army recruiting station, said that the Army has decided to give discharges 90 days to return with their present grade and pay scale. Twenty days has been the present deadline.

"We have found that men need longer than 20 days to make up their minds about civilian life," Lt. Col. Hoermann stated, "so the January 31 deadline so widely advertised has been thrown out."

Men who rejoined the Army after their 20 days had elapsed will be promoted immediately to their former highest Army grade, it was pointed out. These men now have the rank of private.

This latest enlistment inducement joins re-enlistment bonuses, an improved retirement plan, and many other benefits in the Army's campaign to attract 1,600,000 men to the Regular Army.

It was pointed out, however, that after June 30, the 20-day deadline will again be in force. It is hoped that the Regular Army will be at peacetime strength by that date.

Discharged officers also have 90 days in which to return to the Army as master or first sergeant. Once in service, former officers may apply for commissions. They must appear before officer boards of review which are now being established.

Men discharged as privates may be promoted to private first class immediately following their enlistment if they have had at least six months' service.

SPECIAL SINGERS WILL BE HEARD AT TARLTON

The four Moore sisters from Crooksville will sing Saturday night at the evangelistic services at the Tarlton Methodist church.

A children's chorus has been singing at all the services. The pastor, the Rev. Charles E. Palmer, is being assisted by the Rev. and Mrs. Snyder, singers and evangelists.

Sunday services will be held at 9:30, church school at 10:15 and evangelistic services at 7:30.
